

Terms of Use

Welcome to Zoomout!

These Terms of Use govern your use of Zoomout and provide information about the Zoomout Service, outlined below. When you create a Zoomout account or use Zoomout, you agree to these terms.

We agree to provide you with the Zoomout Service. The Service includes all of the Zoomout products, features, applications, services, technologies, and software that we provide to advance Zoomout's mission: To help you find virtual meetings and influencers you love. The Service is made up of the following aspects (the Service):

Our commitments

- Offering personalized opportunities to host, connect, communicate, discover, and share meetings
 - Zoomout has a wealth of possibilities for small businesses and individuals looking to step up their personalized branding. Our service allows hosts to reach a consumer base that may not have found them before. This could lead to more work and more visibility.
- Fostering a positive, inclusive, and safe environment
 - We develop and use tools and offer resources to our community members that help to make their experiences positive and inclusive, including when we think they might need help. We also have teams and systems that work to combat abuse and violations of our Terms and policies, as well as harmful and deceptive behavior. We use all the information we have-including your information-to try to keep our platform secure.

Your commitments

- In return for our commitment to provide the Service, we require you to make the below commitments to us. You can't impersonate others or provide inaccurate information. You don't have to disclose your identity on Zoomout, but you must provide us with accurate and up to date information (including registration information). Also, you may not impersonate someone you aren't, and you can't create an account for someone else unless you have their express permission.

- You can't do anything unlawful, misleading, or fraudulent or for an illegal or unauthorized purpose.
- You can't do anything to interfere with or impair the intended operation of the Service.
- You can't post private or confidential information or do anything that violates someone else's rights, including intellectual property.

Additional Rights We Retain

- If you select a username or similar identifier for your account, we may change it if we believe it is appropriate or necessary (for example, if it infringes someone's intellectual property or impersonates another user).
- If you use content covered by intellectual property rights that we have and make available in our Service (for example, images, designs, videos, or sounds we provide that you add to content you create or share), we retain all rights to our content (but not yours).

